Headline:

Cloudy with patchy rain on Tuesday, drier, brighter towards evening.

Today:

Cloudy and cool with outbreaks of rain and drizzle. This mainly light and patchy and will gradually fizzle out through the afternoon with some bright spells breaking through by the evening as winds turn northwest. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:

Dry with some brightness to end the day, and cloud will break up overnight to leave a chilly night with light winds and a frost in places. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Wednesday:

A dry-, and largely sunny day, with light winds, though perhaps more cloud over Argyll later. Cool, but still feeling warm in the sunshine, though chilly in the shade. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

High pressure bringing mainly dry and settled conditions, with light winds and bright or sunny spells by day, but rather cool with a frost at night.
